SUMMARY

A self-taught developer with a broad and growing technical skill set spanning game development, machine learning, web development, and Python scripting. Passionate about building creative, practical tools — from AI-powered image converters to interactive browser apps and Shopify stores. Equally comfortable crafting code and producing content, with years of professional writing experience across multiple platforms.

PROJECTS

StickerCard 2.0 [JavaScript · HTML · CSS]

- A browser-based tool that resizes any uploaded image to fit perfectly on a credit card — designed for custom sticker printing. Features a clean UI with live preview.

A24-Style Photo Converter [Python · ML · PIL]

- A Python tool that applies A24 film studio colour grading and visual aesthetics to photographs using image processing and machine learning techniques.

PlayStation 1 Graphics Converter [Python · ML · AI]

- Uses ML models to replicate PS1-era graphical limitations — dithering, colour palette reduction, and low-poly texturing — applied to modern photos and images.

Real-World Step Converter [Python]

- Bridges the physical and digital: reads step data from a fitness tracker and translates real-world steps into in-game character movement in real time.

SOL Scalping Bot [Python · Crypto API]

- Experimental algorithmic trading bot for Solana (SOL) — explored exchange APIs, order logic, and real-time data feeds.

Unity Game Development [Unity · C#]

- Developing games in Unity — working across game mechanics, scene design, and scripting in C#.
